Dear Booking Personnel,

The Travis Wesley Trio is a modern jazz piano trio that maintains a progressive musical philosophy, profound respect for the jazz tradition and a consistent, high-level performance energy suited for respected jazz venues, festivals, radio and private engagements. While the current trio has recently completed their first album (Cycle By Three, 2013), each of its members are seasoned players and music professors with considerable experience as working jazz musicians, clinicians and educators.

The Travis Wesley Trio is currently seeking new performance venues throughout the country and we would greatly appreciate your consideration for booking. We are available for club engagements, music festivals, educational clinics, master classes and private events. Our rates vary depending on your budget, time and travel however, our objective is to find an affordable solution for everyone. Lastly, we pride ourselves on our professionalism, commitments to our clients and artistic innovation, and we look forward to demonstrating this to you.

Enclosed are press materials including a complimentary copy of our recent trio release, Cycle By Three, a bio, press releases, quotes, and photographs. If you find that our trio would be a good fit for your venue, please reach out to Travis via phone or email.

Sincerely yours,

Travis Wesley
